Fourth Annual Union Picnic of Local Sunday Schools—Personal.
The fourth annual union picnic of the Protestant churches of Greenville and the Bean Hill Methodist church was held at Ocean Beach Thursday.
About 300 left the village in five cars at 9:15, one car taking the uptown people. At the beach a basket lunch was served and the churches provided ice cream. An athletic program was carried out. Swimming and the other beach sports were enjoyed to the utmost and the party returned tired but happy at 6:30. The churches represented were Greenville Congregational, Federated, Swedish Lutheran and St. Andrew's of Greenville and the Bean Hill Methodist church of Norwich Town. The committee in charge comprised John W. McKinley, chairman; Oscar W. Carpenter, secretary; Willis F. Hill, treasurer; Paul Zahn, for and Archibald P. McDougall. The trip was made without accident and the car service was perfect in every way.

Community Sewing.
The Community Sewing society met Wednesday afternoon in their rooms for Red Cross work. They did a large amount of work for an afternoon.
There were about 40 ladies present.

James Johnson and family spent Thursday at Ocean Beach.

Wednesday's storm caused a big washout on Roosevelt avenue.

Henry Boyd has resigned his position with the United States Finishing company.

Misses Agnes, Elizabeth Fleming and Marian Kierke spent Thursday at Ocean Beach.

Mrs. John Brice of Pawtucket, R. I., is visiting her mother, Mrs. Burton, of Fourth street.

Miss Marian Ger of Pompanokey is visiting Mrs. A. R. Blackledge of Prospect street.

Master Harry Curran of Newport, R. I., is visiting his grandmother, Mrs.
Curran, of Eleventh street.

Miss Nona Brennan has returned after spending several days in New York at the home of her uncle.

Chief of Police M. J. Healey and Mrs. Healey of Manchester, N. H., are visiting Mrs. John McKinley for a few days.

Miss Florence Tilly entertained a group of girls named the Jolly Six at her summer cottage at Ocean Beach Wednesday evening.

Mrs. George Monks and son, George, have returned to Newton, Mass., after spending several weeks at the home of her mother, Mrs. P. F. Nealan, of East Norwich.

Miss Tessie Nealon was pleasantly surprised at her home on Mowry avenue Wednesday evening by a large number of friends. During the evening selections were rendered by Miss Lily Woods, accompanied by Miss Marion Howarth. Refreshments were served by Mrs. L. A. Combes assisted by Misses Catherine Rordan and Mary Carroll. The party broke up at a late hour, all voting Miss Nealon a very agreeable hostess.

JUDGE REED HEARS BURNAP'S APPEAL Against Vote of Water Board Abolishing Office of Superintendent—Charges Board Acted in Bad Faith—Defense Is That Superintendent's Office Was Found to Be Unnecessary.
(Special to The Bulletin.)
Stafford Springs, Aug. 1.—The suit of Edwin S. Burnap of Norwich against the board of water commissioners of the city of Norwich to test the validity of their action in abolishing the office of superintendent of the water department, which he held up to June 28th, this year, was heard before Judge Joel H. Reed of the superior court at his office in Stafford Springs Thursday. In 1917 the legislature passed an act giving the water board power to appoint a superintendent and fixing the salary of said official at $1,800 per year. At a meeting of the board on June 28, 1918, a resolution was adopted abolishing the office of superintendent. The salary of the president, who had been receiving $300 a year for his services, was then increased to $1,700 and a resolution of the court of common council passed in 1917 showing the duties of the president to be in general those of the superintendent was frequently referred to by Corporation Counsel Joseph T.
Panning, who represented Walter W.
Lang, the respondent, who is also president of the water board.

Mr. Burnap brings his appeal on the grounds that the action taken was not in good faith to abolish the office, but was intended simply to deprive the superintendent, while the answer of the water board to this is that they acted in a legal way and with honest motives and were not merely aiming to get rid of him.

Edwin S. Burnap was the first witness called. He said that he had been connected with the water department since 1905 as superintendent, with the exception of a year when the administration was of opposite political faith.
Up to 1917 he continued to act by resolution of the city fathers and from 1917 he acted under appointment with the provisions of the legislative act. He had no specific instructions from the board concerning his duties, but in general he had supervision of the water works and pipe line. He hired and discharged help and had full charge of the reservoirs and all construction work. He received a notice on June 28th, 1918, from the board informing him that the office of superintendent had been abolished and he proceeded to take steps to test the validity of the action.

Hugh Blackledge and Albert S. Comstock, two members of the water board, testified as to the duties of the superintendent. The latter had served on the water board 18 years and Mr.
Blackledge is now serving the third year of his second term, having filled the place during a previous term. He left the office of the water board on June 28th, as he understood the business had been transacted, and the resolution abolishing the office was passed after he left the meeting. The members of the board appointed by the court of common council, said the office was abolished in the interest of economy, as did Patrick F. Bray, who said that

OTIS LIBRARY ASKED TO SEND MORE BOOKS
From This Community For the Men
Now in France.

The Otis Public Library has received a request from the American Library Association's Headquarters in Washington for more books from this community for the men overseas.
The appeal from Washington states that new novels and good Western stories, whether new or old, are most needed. Books by Zane Grey, Rex Beach, Jack London, Ralph Connor, Owen Wister and Henry are very popular. The Public Library announces that it will receive and forward all suitable books that are turned in. It urges the friends of the soldiers and seafarers, many of whom have already responded most generously, to give more books.

The communication received by the library from the Washington headquarters states that over 600,000 books have been sent overseas. The supply is nearly exhausted, and several hundred thousand more will be needed soon by the six dispatch officers in strong cases, so built that they may serve as bookcases.

They go on the decks of transports, in cargo vessels and in naval vessels.
Those that go on the decks of the transports are open so that the men may have reading matter for use on the voyage. All these books are gathered together again, however, replaced in the cases and delivered to the proper office in France.

In France, the books are distributed by an experienced librarian, representing the American Library Association.
Most of them go to Y. M. C. A., Red Cross and Salvation Army huts, hospitals and canteens, others go directly to chaplains and officers.

N. E. O. P. FIELD DAY.
State Event is to Be Held Saturday at Savin Rock.

The annual state field day of the New England Order of Protection is to be held at Savin Rock, New Haven, on Saturday, and will be attended by large delegations from the various lodges of the order in Connecticut and various supreme lodge officers from this and other states in the jurisdiction.

The field day is looked forward to by many members, especially those living in inland cities, as it affords them an opportunity of going to the seaside, meeting old acquaintances, and giving their families an enjoyable day's outing. Athletic sports are to be arranged and prizes given to successful contestants in the new features of an interesting nature, this is to be brought out by the committees in charge of the affair.

ADMITS BELLINGS WILL Probate Judge Ayling Hears Testimony and Gives His Decision.

At an adjourned hearing in the probate court on Tuesday afternoon, probate Judge Nelson J. Ayling admitted the will of the late Henry Bellings of Franklin, who left an estate of about $4,000 with relatives as the principal legatees.
The will was admitted to probate against the admission of the will was also made by relatives.
Attorney P. J. Danahy of Willimantic appeared on behalf of those contesting the admission of the will and two doctors were called as witnesses. They were Dr. Guild of Willimantic who was called by Attorney Danahy and Dr. Souder of the Norwich State Hospital, who was called by Attorney Brown & James who appeared for the will.
Lloyd P. Ayling of Franklin is the executor of the will and has qualified by filing the bond required.

LEGHORNS AT STORRS
LEAD IN 39TH WEEK
Clean Sweep Except For the Oregon —Slacker Hens Shown Up.

In the thirty-ninth week of the contest at Storrs the Leghorns made a clean sweep for the week, with but one exception, namely the Oregon.
Pen 73, A. P. Robinson (Alverson, N. Y.) won first place with a total of 31 eggs. Pen 31, Oak Place Estate, (Lebanon, Pa.), was second with 28 eggs.
Pen 53, Oregon Agricultural College, Corvallis, Ore., 28 eggs. Pen 54, Exmoor Farms, Lebanon, Pa., and 55, Greendale Farms, Greendale, N. Y., were all tied for third place with a weekly production of 28 eggs each. Five pens of Leghorns were tied for fourth place with a production of 28 eggs each. The following pens were the winners of fourth place: 64, G. P. Platt, Wallingford, Pa., 28; Daurick Bros., Winchester, Conn., 28; E. A. Ballard, Chester, Pa., 28; and 29, W. H. Kist, Springfield, Ill. The total production for the week was 3335 eggs, or 47.8 per cent. One change has taken place among the three best pens of the Rhode Island Reds. Pen 40, Pequot Poultry Farms, Southport, Conn., has taken the place of pen 35, Chas. H.
Lane, Southport, Mass. No other change has taken place among the three best pens in each of the principal varieties.

For the last few weeks the hens seem to continue to fall off in their producing ability, which only goes to show that some hens are not doing much toward filling the egg basket.
Most of the pens that are not laying are just slackers. Consequently from now on it is very desirable that these poor producers be eliminated from the pen in order to produce the greatest quantity of eggs in the least possible cost. The culling demonstrations have proven that it pays. At a recent culling bee 826 hens were court-martialed and being slacked from a flock of 1488.
The results of this demonstration showed that the egg production for the week previous to the demonstration was 2100 eggs, or an average of 209 per hen, and for the week following the demonstration was 2295, or an average of 242 per day.

The three best pens in each of the principal varieties are as follows:
Pen Barred Plymouth Rocks
1 Jules F. Francis, West

ALL AROUND MEN FOR K. O. C. WAR CAMP WORK Requirements of the Job Call For Well Qualified Men.

Before a Knights of Columbus war camp secretary can qualify for his duties he receives a course of intensive training that quickly makes apparent any defect that would prevent him from doing his duty to the best service. And this hundred per cent. standard is no easy task to meet, embracing ability to perform tasks requiring unusual tact, superabundance of energy, mental alertness, high order of firmness, large sympathies, executive ability, and diplomacy, something akin to that of an ambassador. And, overlooking all these, he must have a genuine liking for his work. This is positively essential because if the work is not congenial to him, he is like a round peg in a square hole.

A knowledge of athletic and other recreational entertainments is also necessary because this phase of his work is an important factor in his duties. He must be able to entertain men and recreation and sports of an athletic nature are especially effective in keeping him in prime physical and mental condition.

Baseball appeals strongly to men in war camps and if a secretary is a died-in-the-wool baseball fan so much the better his work will be easier for him and the men will like him all the better.

A K. O. C. secretaryship is evidence that the incumbent is a man far above mediocrity in the qualifications reported from other sources, they are added if investigation proves them reliable. Such additions are frequently only anticipations of the official casualty list which have been cabled here immediately to friends or families.

COMPILING CONNECTICUT OFFICIAL CASUALTY LIST
Making Up Records From the Reports Sent From Washington.

An official Connecticut casualty list being compiled by the Connecticut State Council of Defense, is ready for reference at the state capital at Harford. The records are in the office of the Soldiers and Sailors Information Bureau in Hartford, where telephone questions or other communications can be addressed in care of Edward Field. The telephone number is Charter 600. The list is an up to date from the time the war department began making public the addresses of the men listed by General Pershing in his official casualty report. Within two weeks the records will be removed from Washington, complete from the entry of the United States into the war.

The list is compiled from the official records sent from the war department. When, however, the names of Connecticut men dead, wounded, or prisoners in the nation's service are reported from other sources, they are
liable. Such additions are frequent-
here immediately to friends or families.

PINNED UNDER AUTO.
HIS NECK BROKEN.
Louis J. Perkins of New London Killed on Lyme Turnpike.

Louis J. Perkins, of 11 Huntington street, New London, was killed in an automobile accident on the Lyme turnpike shortly after 10 o'clock Thursday morning, when a runaway which Mr.
Perkins was driving turned over. Mr.
Perkins' neck was broken and his skull fractured.

The accident happened near the little white schoolhouse, a short distance from the Plant farm. Mr. Perkins, accompanied by Louis A. Sauve, a train dispatcher for the Central Vermont railway, with whom Perkins lived, was out for a ride, going in the direction of Saybrook, when the machine, driven at the rate of about 35 miles an hour, went into deep sand at the side of the road. Mr. Perkins evidently lost control of the machine and it turned completely over and he was pinned under it. Mr. Sauve was thrown to the side of the road and escaped with severe bruises.

When the machine was lifted Perkins was dead. Medical Examiner F.
H. Dart of Niantic was notified of the accident. He gave permission for the removal of the body, pronouncing death to have been accidental. The body was taken to New London.

Mr. Perkins came from Canada several weeks ago and was employed as a train dispatcher at the New London office of the Central Vermont railway.
He was 35 years old and was rooming with Mr. Sauve in Huntington street.
Mr. Perkins bought the machine a short time ago.

CONNECTICUT REGIMENT IS NOW OVERSEAS
304th Contains Many Norwich Boys—Trained at Upton and Devens.

Many Norwich people will be interested in the news just received that the members of the 304th Regiment "have safely arrived overseas." This regiment left Camp Devens, Mass., over three weeks ago and is composed entirely of Connecticut boys, including many from Norwich, part of whom were sent first to Camp Upton, L. I., but later transferred to Camp Devens.
Their first training in the state of New England will follow their further movements, eagerly hoping for each a safe return, but knowing that they like other American troops, will "do their bit" when called upon.

DAVIS THEATRE
Pair of Sixes on the Screen.

A Pair of Sixes, adapted from the famous stage play of Edward Peple, which was shown at the Davis on Thursday, shows Taylor Holmes in one of his merriest moods.
The complicated plot of the story hinge around the merriest incompatibility of two business partners. When they decide to abide by the verdict of a hand of poker as to who will run the business for a year and who will be the other's personal servant, T. Boggs (Holmes) loses.

Thus does he take part in the domestic life of his partner, George Nettelton. And Boggs dare not, at a cost of $5,000, reveal the circumstances of his fate.

T. Boggs is pursued by the relentless "Coddies," the aged and un-beautiful mail of all work in the Nettelton home. Her love is atavistic —and ludicrous. And up and down stairs she chases T. Boggs.
And then Florence, his sweetheart.
